June Will Be Busy Month For Sierra Madre People With Many Events Scheduled

Woman's Club, Chamber of Commerce, Public Schools and Churches All Plan
Events for the Month

There may be dull days in the social life of Sierra Madre but they certainly will not make their appearance during the month of June this year. There are those who will contend that there is no season of the year which has less activity than the present, and who have long since become skeptical about the quietness of any small town, but there may be still others who believe that everyone leaves the mountains for the beach about the time the first reports of heat prostrations are reported from eastern cities. Those who believe this should follow the social activities of a community nature which are scheduled for the month of June in Sierra Madre.

To begin with, there was Shrine week, not in Sierra Madre but to be sure, but the activities of Sierra Madre people centered around this event. It would be hard to chronicle the events which have revolved around the coming of the Shriners to Southern California. During the week, Sierra Madre has paid their respects and at the same time helped to make the traffic problem more acute by visiting the City of the Angels to greet the nobles in satin and tux. Then there were a number of dinner parties, dances and what not, participated in by local people who had friends or relatives at the big gathering, some of them were held here; others in Los Angeles, but it was all Sierra Madre's part in entertaining the Shriners.

At the Parish House
The ladies of the Church of the Ascension will hold a dinner and card party on June 11. All those who have attended these affairs and the number is not few, realize that they are events that really should not be missed, even in a busy month such as the present one.

On Friday, June 12, there will be a special night for Sierra Madre people at La Golondrina, John Steven McGroarty's famous play now being staged at San Gabriel. From all appearances, this event will be worth consideration. The evening is being arranged under the auspices of the chamber of commerce and a special section in the theater is being reserved. It is estimated that about 150 people from Sierra Madre will attend the show next Friday night.

Tuesday, June 9, there will be a garden party for the ladies of the Congregational church and their friends at the home of Mrs. George Lehner, 550 West Central. Those who have attended the social meetings of the Ladies' Aid of this church can readily appreciate that this event into which a great deal of effort has been put and which is sure of a large crowd and good afternoon's entertainment.

Club Year Closes
Wednesday, June 10, will be the last luncheon of the year for the Woman's club. This is a big day on the club calendar when Miss Ruth Klemme will assume charge of the gavel and Mrs. Samuel E. Stork will retire from a very active and successful year as club president. The ceremony of installing new officers and the other features of the program, including a Chinese luncheon, will fill the day with interest to every club woman in town.

The week of June 14 will be given over to the graduates. There will be about 22 graduates from the city school and a number from high school. A number of class parties and other events have been planned for both these groups and on Thursday, June 18, the grammar school graduates will receive their diplomas and on Friday, June 19, the high school graduates will receive theirs. On Tuesday, the 16th, the Sierra Madre school will be presented with a cup which has been awarded for the production of the best poster in the county. The presentation will be made with due ceremony.

Summer Garden Party
On Thursday, June 25, there will be the annual garden party of the Eastern Star, held on the lawn of the N. W. Tarr home, 274 West Montecito. This is an annual event which has attracted a large crowd and which is planned for some weeks. It includes a fine dinner, dancing, refreshments and other features of entertainment common to affairs of this kind. On the ample grounds of the Tarr home there is opportunity for an entertainment of elaborate proportions.

The pageant of Greek Myths will be held on June 26 and 27 on the lawn of the George R. Roberts home at 497 West Grand view. The pageant has a cast of about 50 persons and will be one of the most artistic productions ever attempted in this community. Mrs. J. Glenwood Jones, who is directing the pageant, planned to give it this week but the bad weather prevented the cast practicing and the change in dates was made necessary.

So far the last three days of the month have not been lined with community entertainment, but it is believed that after the events of the month already scheduled a rest of three days will be welcomed by most of the people of this city.

Pomona to Have a Big Class Day

Elaborate plans for the Pomona College commencement, announced by Dean E. J. Jaqua, provide for a series of public events beginning on Thursday, June 11, and continuing through the graduation exercises on Monday evening at which Professor W. B. Munro, Ph. D., LL. D., of Harvard and Pasadena, will give the address. The degree of bachelor of arts will be conferred upon a graduating class of 162 students and the degree of master of arts will be awarded to eight candidates who have completed a year's residence and strict requirements for the higher degree.

The recital given by the seniors of the department of Music will take place at 8 o'clock Thursday evening in Mabel Shaw Bridges Hall of Music.

Friday, June 12, is Class Day for the graduating seniors, their program beginning at 8 o'clock in the morning with the class breakfast. An exhibition and reception by the Department of Art and Design will be held at 4 o'clock, and at 4:30 Professor Edward Kaminski will give a gallery talk in Rembrandt hall in connection with the exhibition of paintings from the Laguna Beach Art association.

"The Gondoliers," an opera, has been substituted for the usual original senior play and will be an exceedingly attractive feature this year due to the large number of trained voices in the senior class and among the picked under-graduates who will assist in the production. The giving of this opera in the open air theater will be an interesting innovation sure to attract an attendance of thousands from the surrounding region.

A thousand alumni, accompanied by their families and friends, will descend upon Claremont on Saturday, June 13, Alumni Day. The historic "Wash Program" has become so popular that it has had to be transferred to the gymnasium this year, no other auditorium being large enough to seat the attendance. The big event of the day is the alumni banquet at 6 p. m., followed by the glee club reunion concert and the alumni dance.

President James A. Blaisdell will preach the baccalaureate sermon in the open-air theater 6:30 Sunday evening.

Commencement Day, Monday, June 15, is made notable by the recital of the faculty of the Department of Music at 10:30 a. m. and the graduation exercises at 6:30 p. m. in the open-air theater. William Bennett Munro, Ph. D., LL. D., of Harvard University, will give the Commencement address.

MAIL CARRIER IS HONORED BY POSTAL CLERKS

John E. Thompson, who retired from work at the Sierra Madre post office a few weeks ago, received a beautiful engraved silver plate Monday as a gift from his fellow employees of the office. The gift was a token of the friendship and high esteem which Mr. Thompson's working day associates held for him.

Mr. Thompson first entered the postal service in Cincinnati in 1891 and remained in that city as a city carrier until 1904. In 1918 when village delivery was started in Sierra Madre, Mr. Thompson again entered the service and was the first Sierra Madre carrier. He continued his work here until three weeks ago, when he was retired with a pension.

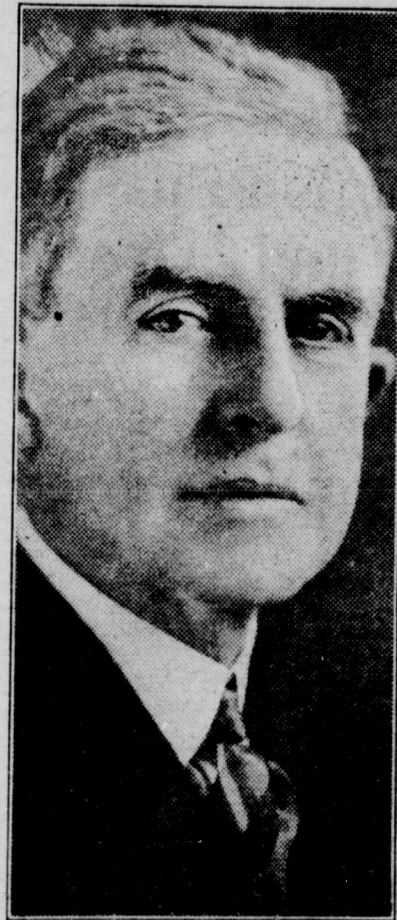

BALLOON CAMP AT ROSS FIELD

Reserve balloon officers will hold an exclusive air service camp at Ross Field on July 18 to prepare the 49th balloon group organized reserve, with headquarters in Los Angeles, for duties incident to mobilization.

The camp will be entirely distinct and separate from the camp for reserve officers of all branches which will be held from June 15 to July 11.

Balloon officers will be ordered to duty for the July 18 camp, which will be the first of its kind ever held in the west, according to Lieut. C. P. Kane, commanding officer in charge of arrangements.

Heading the group will be Captain Harold F. Reed, with Lieutenant Joseph Sullivan as adjutant. Both officers saw war service with the balloons, and they and their colleagues are looking forward to a number of trips in the army balloons which have been detailed to Ross Field for the training camp.

JOHN STEVEN MCGROARTY

Local Post Holds Rites For Heroes

Memorial Day exercises were held last Saturday morning at the local cemetery under the auspices of Sierra Madre Post of the American Legion. The impressive exercises paid fitting tribute to the departed veterans of all wars.

The ceremonies were opened by the members of the Legion post marching into the cemetery with the post colors in advance. Rev. Father Bennet delivered the invocation. Capt. J. A. Osgood, veteran of the Civil War, gave the principal address of the occasion, paying fitting tribute to those who fought for the nation in all wars. He advocated proper preparedness so that the peace for which the veterans of the World War fought may be maintained for all time. He stressed the fact that the war veterans of war are the most ardent advocates of peace because they know the horrors of war.

Following Capt. Osgood's address, members of the Legion distributed wreaths of Shasta daisies and ferns made by the Auxiliary, upon the graves of all veterans. The sounding of Taps by the Boy Scout trumpeters while the assembly stood with bowed heads fittingly closed the day's ceremonies.

FARM BUREAU WILL CONDUCT DEMONSTRATION

The Agricultural Extension Service and the Citrus Growers department of the Farm Bureau will cooperate in holding a one-day school for those who wish to receive instruction in the operation of inarching citrus trees. Any grower wishing to attend this school and actually inarch a tree himself is invited to attend. This school will be held Thursday, June 11, beginning at 10 o'clock at the ranch of William Begg, corner of Emerald Avenue and Bowdoin St., north of La Verne. If possible notify the Farm Advisor's office, 230 Court street, Los Angeles, in advance.

Two inarching demonstrations will be held as follows:
Tuesday, June 9, 2:30, at the ranch of George A. Barber, one-quarter mile north of Telegraph road on Long Beach boulevard, between Rivera and Downey.

Wednesday, June 10, 10 a. m., at the ranch of W. H. Collins, north of packing house, Charter Oak.

Chamber of Commerce Plans To Attend La Golondrina at Mission of Old San Gabriel

A Section in the Center of Theater is Reserved
For People of This City Who Attend
Play Next Friday Night

Those who attended the Chamber of Commerce lunch on Tuesday were treated to a delightful surprise in a short talk by Mr. Johnson, a member of the "Millionaires' Club" of the green Verdugo Hills, who gave most interesting sidelights on the personal, neighborly side of John S. McGroarty, author of the "Mission Play" and "La Golondrina."

Mr. Johnson figures in Mr. McGroarty's writings as "the fiddler" his wife is the "school teacher." He assured his audience that everyone of the characters so familiar to readers of McGroarty's Sunday page is a real live person and he claims proud ownership of one of the descendants of the Yellow Cat.

Working Up Excursion

Mr. Johnson came to the lunch to explain arrangements for Sierra Madre night at "La Golondrina," a very cheap rate being given for June 12th. In fact, he assured his audience that on the children's tickets Mr. McGroarty loses money, as the seats cost him 22 cents more than the price he has set for the children. This is done because Mr. McGroarty is so wrapped up heart and soul in the story and the romance of early California that he wishes every child to have the opportunity of seeing this play which depicts the California of a century ago—before the coming of the "gringo." One university sent 219 of its students in a body to see this play because of its historical and educational value.

Mr. Johnson's talk was very informal and amusing and overflowing with enthusiasm for the author and his work. He could not find sufficient words to fully express his admiration for the color and the beauty of this second masterpiece of California's story and he said one must see this to really enjoy the third of the trilogy which will deal with the days of '49 and which it is hoped to produce this fall. From his references to Mr. McGroarty, a picture grew in the minds of his hearers of a man whose friendliness and neighborliness and charm equalled his genius as an artist and a writer—the sort of a man it is a joy to know.

Coming to Sierra Madre

He said he brought a personal message from Mr. McGroarty to the people of Sierra Madre—that the poet-playwright sent word to the people of this city to guard the beautiful trees which they were so fortunate in possessing, that they were one of the chief attractions of the city. Mr. McGroarty has promised to speak at the next Chamber of Commerce dinner, which will be held before long.

Postmaster Wright had arranged a short program appropriate to "Better Mailing Week," June 1 to 7. She

DeMolay to Have Local Class Soon

Sierra Madre young men will have an opportunity to join the order of DeMolay in the near future if plans now under way materialize. A chapter of the order has just been organized in Monrovia and it is planned to make it a joint organization with officers and members in both Sierra Madre and Monrovia.

The Monrovia chapter is being sponsored by the Commandery, which has a number of members living in Sierra Madre. The advisory board of the order is composed of Master Masons, who act as advisors in policies of the order though the actual governing of the body is done by the boys themselves.

Though the order is sponsored by a Masonic body it has no connection with Masonry but is intended to give the young man who has not yet reached his majority some insight into the pleasures and responsibilities of a fraternal order. The ritual is one of the best that has ever been devised, according to critics, and the order is generally held in high esteem wherever it is known.

The plan being worked out for the local chapter will divide the meetings between the Sierra Madre Masonic temple and the Monrovia Masonic temple. There is one business meeting and one dance a month and it is the plan to alternate the dances between Monrovia and Sierra Madre. A class of ten Sierra Madre boys is being organized, which will probably be given the degrees during the summer months.

emphasized the importance of more care in addressing letters and packages, especially the placing of a return address on each piece of mail sent out, and called attention to the immense sums spent by the government each year because of slackness in this regard, impressing upon her hearers that each one of them paid some of this loss. Much amusement was aroused by the quoting of some of the peculiar addresses and forwarding orders that have been noticed in the local office. She informed the business men present that this was the beginning of a reform in the addressing of mail sent through this office and they agreed that reform was necessary and that they would help the good work along.

The lunch next Tuesday will be held at the Sierra Madre Cafe, Mr. W. S. Hull being in charge of the program.

Dr. W. A. Tate Resigns as Pastor Here

Dr. William A. Tate, who for the last two years has been pastor of the First Congregational church, read his resignation to the members of the church after the church services last Sunday morning. Dr. Tate resigned a few weeks ago but the members refused to consider his resignation. The second resignation was given as final and will be acted upon at a meeting of the church membership called for Monday evening.

While in Sierra Madre Dr. Tate has made a large number of friends both in and outside his church. He has been unusually active in his work among the sick and has always taken an active part in community and civic affairs. He is also a recognized leader in Southern California ministerial circles, and is a member of the board of directors of the ministerial association of his church.

Dr. Tate does not expect to take a work at once as his work here was so strenuous that he says he believes he is entitled to a rest. He plans attending an eastern college for a term before reentering church work.

Pageant Is Postponed Three Weeks

The Arcadian pageant of Greek Myths has been postponed from tonight (Friday) and tomorrow night till Friday and Saturday, June 26 and 27. The cool weather has made it impossible to practice on the lawn and the cast was therefore not ready to stage the performance.

Mrs. J. Glenwood Jones, who is responsible for the pageant, expects to continue her work until the time of the affair, and as a result, a much more finished entertainment is expected. Several classic dances are being added and other bits of action which were not possible on a shorter notice.

About 45 men and women are in the cast, the majority being women. There are still several places on the cast which could be filled by new talent. Mrs. Jones is especially handicapped because of a lack of men to take the parts of Greek characters.

LODGE HOLDS FIRST SESSION IN NEW HOME

The Sierra Madre Masonic lodge held its first meeting in the new Masonic temple on Tuesday evening. A larger crowd than usual was present and all expressed delight with the new hall. The lower portion of the building has not been completed and the hall where the meetings are held is not yet completely furnished, but it was thought advisable to be settled in the new home before the summer months.

Donald C. Ashmore, master of the lodge, thanked those who had assisted in the moving and the ladies of the Eastern Star were ordered to be thanked in the name of the lodge. Rudolph Hartman and Peter Becronis who are now fellowcraft Masons surprised the Master Masons present with a treat of ice cream and cake in helpings in proportions which made it unnecessary to ask for seconds.

Merchants Build Fire Breaks Here

Eighteen men started work on the new Sierra Madre firebreak which will protect Sierra Madre Canyon Park and the Sierra Madre watershed from fire during the summer months. The men are being paid by Sierra Madre business men, and are under the direction of Fire Agent A. M. Udell.

Some time ago the merchant bureau of the chamber of commerce agreed to build the firebreak, it being believed that it would be cheaper in the long run to build the break than to suffer from the loss of business as the consequences of a mountain fire. It was at first planned that the merchants would take a holiday and go in a body to build the break, but the plan was later discarded and merchants hired men used to the hard work of brush cutting in their stead.

Every precaution possible is being taken this year by Fire Agent Udell and Ranger H. M. Davis to protect Sierra Madre's watershed from fire. This is the only area for some miles which has not been burned over within the last few years and it is therefore the most valuable piece of brush covering on this side of the mountain. A fire in this district would also cause a direct loss to the citizens of this part of the valley of several thousands of dollars annually through floods.

FINE MEETING TO BE HELD IN VALLEY TOWN

A very interesting meeting of the South Santa Anita Center of the Los Angeles County Farm Bureau will be held on Tuesday, June 9, 1925, at 8 p. m., in the new social hall of the Temple Community church, corner of Golden West and Woodruff streets, Temple, California.

The following program has been announced by Mr. Holmes, the chairman of the center:

1. Mr. G. R. Gorton, deputy horticultural commissioner, will give an illustrated lecture on quarantine regulations, using slides which show, in a very interesting way, the problems of plant quarantine.

2. Mr. T. H. Lambert of El Monte, vice-president of the Los Angeles County Farm Bureau, and a delegate on the recent Farm Bureau Traveling conference in northern California, will speak on his experiences of the Farm Bureau Traveling conference, giving in detail some of the inspiring demonstrations observed on the trip.

3. Entertainment movies to be shown on bird life in the form of a film entitled, "Hooters and Honkers."

4. An additional reel of movies on a trip through the Yosemite valley, showing some of the beauties of this wonderful California playground. It is hoped that all will attend, as this is a very interesting meeting and some valuable information concerning the work done by the horticultural commissioner and his staff, will be explained to you in an illustrated way.

Remember the time, June 9th, at 8 p. m., Temple Community Church, social hall, Golden West and Woodruff streets, Temple, Cal.

CHUNKS O' WISDOM

With all this modern craze for psychic research there is really nothing new about a family skeleton coming to life.

The cheapest is seldom the best. Even the self-made man might exercise more care in selecting his materials.

The man who depends upon his conscience should remember that even an alarm clock doesn't always go off.

It isn't every fellow who can distinguish between his castles in the air and his mansions in the sky.

You can never tell. Many a fellow spreads himself without having a broadening influence.

The wise man accepts the imperfections of life as his opportunity to serve.

The sage is perfectly willing to admit that his own life is imperfect.

No Accidents to Mar Memorial Day

Both Memorial day and the following Sunday were singularly free from accidents or serious traffic violation, according to Chief of Police Udell, only minor violations being recorded. Caution and consideration of drivers appeared to be the rule over the week end.

Auto Deaths of Children Are Reduced

National adoption of the principle of teaching highway safety in the public schools, which has been successfully operated under the plan of the safety department of the Automobile Club of Southern California in various cities in this section, is expected as a result of the appeal for such action recently sent to public school superintendents throughout the country by Secretary of Commerce Hoover.

In this request to school authorities for their co-operation, Secretary Hoover called attention to statistics showing that approximately 6,000 children are killed annually by automobiles, which is 30 per cent of all the fatal motor vehicle accidents.

Figures Are Reversed
That safety teaching in schools is successful was illustrated by 1924 statistics which show that the child death rate expectancy in Los Angeles had been reduced 21 per cent for the year, while facts compiled by the National Safety Council from reports from 80 large cities throughout the nation showed a steadily ascending death rate among children, caused by automobiles.

As a beginning of its educational program of extending safety study to every elementary school in Southern California, the motoring organization has established such teaching in the public schools of Los Angeles, Glendale, Bakersfield, Long Beach, Santa Barbara, San Diego, Pasadena, Pomona, Ventura and other cities. The material reduction in child fatality expectancy in Los Angeles last year attracted nation-wide attention, according to the requests for information from all parts of the country that have been received by the public safety department.

ALONG LIFE'S TRAIL

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

GETTING THINGS DONE

GETTING things done is a matter of habit, just like parting the hair in the middle or going to church. Foster never could get things done.

When the Foster house was built the carpenter had neglected to drive a nail securely into a bit of molding on the stairway, but had left the head protruding and the strip of molding insecurely attached. Mrs. Foster had more than once torn a jagged rent in her gown when it caught on the offending nail head as she swished down stairs.

"I wish you'd drive that nail in, John," Mrs. Foster said over and over again to her husband. She was herself more skillful with the powder puff than with the hammer. And Foster had meant to do it, but he never got at it. When he thought of it the hammer was in the garage, and when he had the hammer in his hand he did not think of it.

The house had been built twenty-five years when one morning Mrs. Foster heard hammering on the stairway. Her husband was doing something.

"What is the matter, John?" she inquired.

"I'm fixing this infernal nail," was his reply. He had torn his trousers on it as he was coming down stairs and had been stirred sufficiently—it was a good pair of trousers—to wander out to the garage for the hammer. He had reached a crisis and had at last got the job done, but there lay in the wake of his neglect wrecked clothing and damaged tempers and domestic discontent.

"If it were done when 'tis done, then 'twere well 'twere done quickly," MacBeth or his more aggressive wife once said, and that was a point of view which Foster never seemed to learn. He did his business as he fixed the molding on the stairway—that is, he always intended to do it, but there was always with him delay, hesitation, procrastination, and at fifty he found himself pretty much a failure. The fact that it had taken him twenty-five years to drive a nail into the wall was an index of the way he did business generally. He was one of those good-natured, well-intentioned fellows who always meant to do things, but who never reached accomplishment.

Most of us are in Foster's class. We mean to join the church, or get our lives insured, or have the children vaccinated, or quit smoking, but we don't like the minister, or haven't the ready money, or don't realize just how bad tobacco is for the health. It is another case of the hammer being in the garage when we want it.

"What thou doest, do quickly," is pretty good advice.

The Pampero

The pampero is the name given to the cold southwest wind which blows over the great southern plain of Argentina. Loosely the name is applied to any strong southwest wind in that region, but more especially to a rain squall or thunderstorm. At Buenos Aires, the capital of Argentina, the pampero is experienced, on an average, about a dozen times in the year, chiefly in the months of October, November and January.

Legion Puts Fund Over The Top Here

The war orphans did not look to Sierra Madre in vain. The people of Sierra Madre responded to the appeal of the American Legion in their behalf in their characteristic manner. Dr. Gilbert S. Bovard, chairman of the Endowment Fund committee of the local post, announced today that the local campaign had been most successful. Sierra Madre's quota of $550 was passed at noon last Friday, thirty-six hours in advance of the time set for the close of the drive. To date the subscriptions total $622. Dr. Bovard stated further: "I was confident that our people would see to it that these orphans and disabled veterans of the world war should not suffer because of any indifference on their part. On behalf of my committee and the American Legion I wish to thank those who responded so liberally to our appeal."

"The success of the campaign was due to the whole-hearted response of our citizens, the unselfish labors of my committee composed of Robert Mitchell, Dennis H. Stovall, Rev. Father Bennet, members of the Auxilliary and Legionnaires, and the co-operation of the local churches, the Sierra Madre News, and the Chamber of Commerce."

JUNIOR COLLEGE SUMMER SESSION TO START SOON

The following information has been sent out by the Pasadena Junior college for the guidance of those who expect to attend its summer course. Sierra Madre is a part of the junior college district.

The summer session of the Pasadena Junior College will extend from June 22 to July 31. The classes will be held in the high school and junior college plant on Colorado street. It will be possible for a student to make six units of credit to apply on a degree or in making up of entrance deficiencies during the six weeks of the session.

The tuition will be $15 for three units or $25 for six.

No classes will be organized in which the enrollment is less than fifteen students.

Enrollment for the summer session will begin on Monday, May 18, and those interested should visit or communicate with the junior college office and file application blank and the transcript of the high school record together with a statement of the courses desired.

The following courses will be offered: Journalism, French, German, Spanish, English A, English C-1A, English D-1 A, Public Speaking, American History, Economic History of U. S., History of Modern Europe, Typewriting, Shorthand, Accounting, Algebra, Trigonometry, History of Physical Education, and Education Through Play.

Few junior colleges give summer sessions outside the State Teachers' colleges. In this enterprise, therefore, the Pasadena Junior College is a pioneer, and it is introducing a course which, it is expected, will be a regular policy in the local institution.

Mr. and Mrs. John Shear have removed to Alhambra, after spending two months in the Canyon at Scott's Rest.

Mr. and Mrs. Ferd Holm of Long Beach are occupying an apartment in the Kozy Korner for a week. Mr. Holm is very much improved in health.

SIX GREAT PARAMOUNTS NEXT WEEK

Buddy Boy, the French bull terrier, used in the production of Jack London's South Sea Story, "Adventure," which Victor Fleming directed for Paramount, took the part of watchman when he was not acting in the picture. Like the three-headed Cerberus that guarded the gates to the mythological infernal regions, Buddy Boy kept a vigil at the "Adventure" set entrance and growled away all intruders. Three days were required for him to become acquainted with the persons working on the picture. After that, he refused to pass all who were not taking part. Featured in the cast of "Adventure" are Tom Moore, Pauline Starke, Wallace Beery and Raymond Hatton. "Adventure" comes to the Wistaria theater Friday, June 6.

Does a girl who is born in America, educated in Spain, and who marries an Irishman, become his Irish Senorita or his Spanish Colleen? This is the question propounded by the character Fernanda in "Proud Flesh," a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production directed by King Vidor, which is coming to the Wistaria Theater on Tuesday, June 9.

The Henry King-Paramount production, "Sackcloth and Scarlet," from the popular novel of the same name by George Gibbs and featuring Alice Terry, Dorothy Sebastian and Orville Caldwell, comes to the Wistaria Theater for a run of one day only next Wednesday. The story is one of two orphan sisters, one the home-loving kind, the other jazz-mad, thoughtless. The picture has to do with the trials and sacrifices of the older girl watching over, caring for and catering to her sister. The picture was adapted for the screen by Tom Geraghty, Jules Furthman and Julie Herne. Included in the supporting cast are Otto Matison, Kathleen Kirkham, John Miljan, Clarissa Selwynne and little Jackie Huff.

The oldest screen debutante will be seen in Sidney Olcott's latest Paramount picture, "Salome of the Tenements." She is Jennie Freeman, 108 years old. Mrs. Freeman and two of her cronies, aged 85 and 70, became motion picture actresses for a day at the Paramount Long Island studio, where they were photographed for a short atmospheric sequence in a tenement flat. Jetta Goudal, Godfrey Tearle and Jose Ruben are the principal players in "Salome of the Tenements," which will be the feature next Thursday at the Wistaria Theater. Anzia Yezierska wrote the novel from which the story was adapted by Sonya Levien.

Raymond Hatton, one of filmdom's most versatile actors, brings a brand new characterization to the screen in Paramount's "The Top of the World," coming to the local theater on Friday, June 12, which George Melford recently produced from Ethel M. Dell's melodramatic story of the same name. He plays a British cavalry captain, very dapper, extremely sure of himself—and more or less dumb. Hatton's versatility has led him into strange picture paths. He is a master of characterizations. In one picture he is a comedian; in the next a double-dyed villain; and in another, perhaps, the hero. His character impersonations are famous among picture-goers.

Speaking of fast workers—Allan Dwan is right up on top when it comes to motion picture directors. "Argentine Love," which opens Sunday, June 7 at the Wistaria for a run of two days is his fourth production of Paramount's Famous Forty. The other three were "Manhandled," "Her Love Story" and "Wages of Virtue," all starring Gloria Swanson. Bebe Daniels and Ricardo Cortez are featured in "Argentine Love," an original screen story by Vicente Blasco Ibanez. James Rennie heads a strong supporting cast which includes Mario Marjeroni, Aurelio Coccia, Mark Gonzales, Russ Whitall, Alice Chapin and Julia Hurley. John Russell adapted the story for the screen. Gerald Duffy wrote the scenario. Keep an eye out for Dwan's next production, "Madame Sans Gene," starring Miss Swanson. Dwan and his staff went to France to make this picture—Gloria's first costume production.

CONARDS WILL ENTERTAIN THE DRAMA SECTION

Unusual interest centers about the meeting of the art section at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Conard, 33 West Mira Monte on the afternoon of June 9. The program will be quite different. Mr. Conard will show types of pictures from many countries and Miss Dunning will give a number of readings. Tea will be served in the delightful gardens and Mr. and Mrs. Conard are most cordial in their invitation that all people interested, shall come. No special invitations will be extended but everyone is welcome.

SECRETARY ART SECTION.

H. Gregor went to Los Angeles on Monday to buy jewelry for the Fraiberg Company's graduation and wedding season.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Milton Steinberger attended the Shrine festivities in Los Angeles on Thursday.

F. J. Bergien expects to leave in the next few days for an extended visit on the east coast.

Around Our Town

Miss Helen Allen, daughter of the Rev. Alexander Allen, rector of Saint Paul's Episcopal Church of Oakland, is visiting at the home of her cousin, Attorney Robert Mitchell of this city.

Mrs. M. D. Welscher asks that any one interested in the Disabled Veterans at Sawtelle would kindly leave donations at the News office. The boys in Ward 10, Main Hospital, are very anxious to have their radio put into working order. This will cost $15.00. Anyone who visits Sawtelle knows what radio means to the men there; also what it means not to have it.

A dinner followed by a card party will be given at the Parish house of the Church of the Ascension Thursday evening, June 11. The dinner will be managed by Mrs. M. D. Welscher and the card party by Mrs. Fred Griebelow. Tickets are being sold by the St. Paul boys. A cordial invitation to all.

Mrs. W. S. Bovard and daughter, Miss Alice Bovard, of Chicago arrived here Thursday for an extended visit with their son and brother, Dr. Gilbert S. Bovard.

Dr. Muriel Dranga Cass and daughter, Mary Emily, of Laredo, Texas, are spending a few days in Sierra Madre, the guests of Mrs. Cass' mother, Mrs. May Dranga, 159 West Montecito.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hooker-Jones expect to leave Saturday for an extended visit through the New England states. They will not return to Sierra Madre until fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Muskrath and Mrs. Eva Holbert left Wednesday for Sacramento, where they will visit with relatives for several days.

Phil Carter, proprietor of Carter's Camp at Big Bear Lake, reports the biggest crowd of visitors to the lake the past week-end that has ever been known in the history of the camp. Mr. Carter says that from all appearances the mountain camps this year will be better attended than ever before.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Tyree, who took over the Wistaria Tea room are making a practice of buying all their materials from local merchants and ranchers. This is the practical way of advocating home trading, Mr. Tyree says.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Langley spent the week end in Long Beach visiting relatives and friends.

Church and Sunday School

Congregational Church

At the First Congregational church next Sunday Dr. Tate will take for his subject "The Manhood of Jesus." A cordial invitation is given to all those without a church home to attend these services. Two recent sermons entitled, "Some Changing Conceptions of Religion," and "The Supremacy of Christ," will be on sale at the door at 10 cents each. These sermons have been printed by special request and are in neat pamphlet form for mailing to friends.

At the evening service at 7 o'clock there will be the usual community singing. A Judge Brown story, and some travel scenes will feature the moving picture part of the program. Come to these services and you will be blessed. League of Youth meets at 6:30 p. m. and the Church School at 9:45 a. m.

Twenty Years Ago
in Cal. Motordom

In a trial of an autoist who was accused of driving 26 miles an hour in violation of the city speed limit of 12 miles an hour, jurors impaneled in Pasadena asserted that they had never ridden in automobiles and that their knowledge of the machines was confined to getting out of their way. Yet they swore they were not prejudiced against the owners of the "devil wagons," and found the defendant not guilty.

While carelessly attempting to fill the gasoline tank of his automobile without putting out the lamps of the machine, a Los Angeles man and three ladies were injured in an explosion that "came near demolishing the 'devil wagon'." A five gallon can of the gasoline was spilled and fire flashed quickly over the street so that the fire department was called to extinguish the blaze.

About fifty machines driven by members of the Automobile club of Southern California participated in a club run to Riverside. They followed a trail made by sprinkling confetti from the lead car. Racing was prohibited, and the run was a two-day tour.

One of the chief motoring difficulties in the early days was the necessity of stopping an auto to lead excited horses around the car. The best time to drive was at night because the headlights of the car warned people driving a horse on the road so that horse, buggy and occupants had disappeared in the brush or on a side road by the time the auto neared where they had been.

Police tested the speed of cars suspected of going faster than the city speed ordinances permitting usually 12 or 15 miles an hour, by following the machine on their bicycles with watches in their hands, timing the car between two selected points. At other times the officers stood at each end of a measured distance and timed the cars as they covered this space.

War Memorial

Officials of the State, County and City governments, and members of the in attendance, the cornerstone of the new Patriotic Hall, which is being erected as a memorial to ex-service men of Los Angeles county, was laid at an impressive ceremony held last Sunday afternoon. Leaders from veterans' organizations from all parts of California attended the ceremony, which marked the completion of the framework of the magnificent structure.

The new building, which was designed by the Allied Architects Association, is being built by the county at a cost of $700,000. Designed to serve as a meeting place for veterans of all wars, it will have all the facilities of a modern club house. When completed, the building will contain club and lounging rooms, a large dining room, an auditorium, game rooms and conference rooms for smaller meetings. It is the intention of the board of supervisors, which is erecting the building, that it shall become the general headquarters for ex-service men's organizations throughout the county.

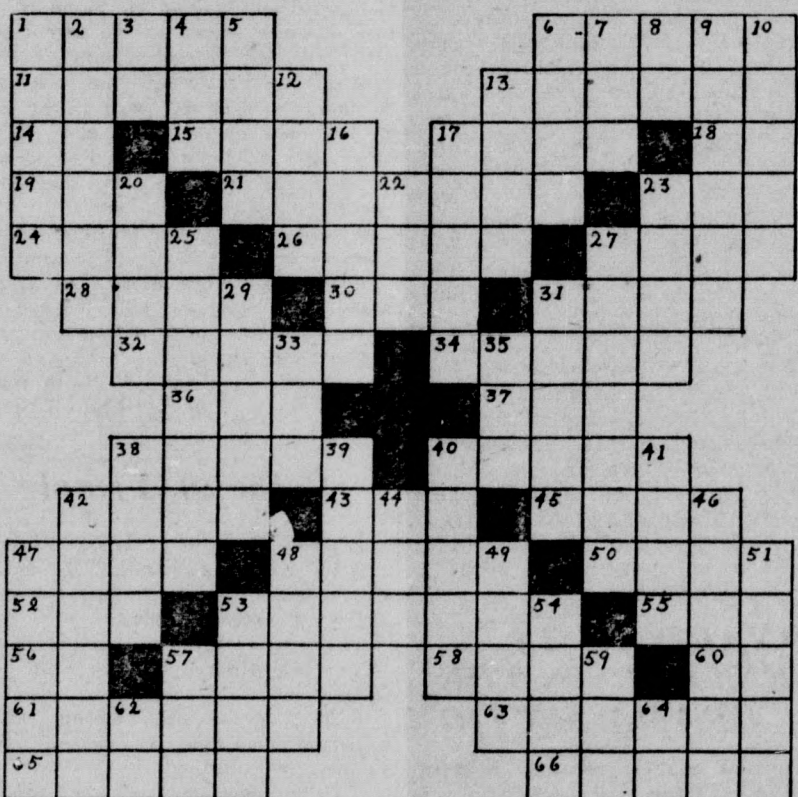

Henry W. Wright, member of the board of supervisors, presided as master of ceremonies introducing the speakers, who included J. H. Bean, chairman of the Building Committee of the Board of Supervisors; Col. J. J. Steadman, Past Department Commander Grand Army of the Republic; Leo Daze, Department Commander, Veterans of Foreign Wars; Buron Fitts, Past Department Commander, American Legion; and Edwin Bergstrom, President of the Allied Architects association.

Supervisor Bean officiated at the laying of the cornerstone. The copper box which was placed inside of the stone, contained complete rosters of every veterans organization in Los Angeles county; rosters of the auxiliary organizations; rosters of the various chapters of the American War Mothers in Los Angeles county; daily newspapers; coins of 1925 mintage; copies of proceedings at various conventions of ex-service men; and a silk flag, presented by the American War Mothers.

NEW FOLDERS BEING PUT OUT BY BIG RESORT

Mr. and Mrs. William Murphy, proprietors of Winter Creek Forest, known for many years as Hoegee's Camp, have just received 10,000 advertising folders from the Sierra Madre News for distribution among pleasure seekers in Southern California.

The folders are new in every sense of the word, there being a new name on the title page and an entire new layout of cuts and reading material which tell the story of the camp as it now is, rather than the way it might have been a few years ago.

Winter Creek Forest has been in existence almost a score of years, and as Hoegee's Camp was known to all the frequenters of the mountain resorts and to a very large number who seldom visit the mountains. It is on the Old Sturtevant trail and is an all-year resort with a good crowd and much social activity during the entire year. Mr. and Mrs. Murphy have owned the resort for about three years and have built up a fine business and have added several cabins and other improvements since taking it over.

Pupils Pay Respects by Exercises

The Sierra Madre grammar school held a Memorial Day program Friday morning at 9 o'clock on the school patio. The program given by the pupils of the school was followed by an inspiring address given by Dr. Gilbert S. Bovard of the American Legion.

Dr. Bovard contrasted the Memorial day of thirty years ago with that of today, when modern aeroplanes scatter flowers over the nation's dead. He expressed the hope that never again would man fight again; that the wars of the future would be as truly patriotic but would be wars against disease and pestilence and against crime and lawlessness. The program was as follows:

Flag Raising, Boy Scouts.
Medley of National Airs, School Orchestra.

Invocation, Dr. William A. Tate.
America, School.
Concert Recitation, "American Creed," and "Flag of My Land," 5th Grade B.

Recitation, Selections from "A Man Without a Country," Fifth Grade A.
Recitation, "Barbara Fritche," Gilbert Sommer.

Lincoln's Speech at Gettysburg, Sixth and Eighth B Grades.
Music, School Orchestra.
Address, Dr. Gilbert S. Bovard.

F. W. Neale and Roland Adams will open a real estate office at 22 North Baldwin within the next few days. The new firm expects to handle real estate, rentals, insurance and loans. There will also be a notary public in the office.

New Method Adobe Brick Being Tried

The adobe house is coming back, according to J. N. Hawks of the real estate firm of Andrews & Hawks. Mr. Hawks has perfected a method of making adobe bricks which he says will make the use of this famous building material of the early day both cheap and practical.

Mr. Hawks' first building experiment is to be the office of his firm which is to be built at once on West Central avenue near the Wistaria theater. This building will be constructed of adobe, which is now being made by Mr. Hawks according to his new process.

Mixed by Machine

After all, there isn't anything so new about the process, Mr. Hawks says, except its application. The adobe clay is mixed in a regular concrete mixer and poured into the moulds and left to dry much as concrete is manufactured. This makes a brick which is true in shape and solid in structure and which may be made with a speed that makes them commercially practical.

Near the foot of the mountain, Mr. Hawks has a piece of land with a good sized hill of fine adobe clay. He has his machinery arranged so that the clay may be handled from its original bed to the moulds by gravity action and with comparatively small expense. The natural advantages are so great that it is claimed that bricks can be made here and transported to any part of the city at less cost than would be required to make bricks on the ground of any prospective home where they would be needed.

Bricks Made True

The old method commonly employed in making these bricks, employs only a few moulds and the clay and water are mixed by hand. The moulds are removed soon after the bricks are cast, which results in an irregular product which usually causes the mason more or less trouble when he attempts to build a true wall. Mr. Hawks has a large number of moulds which permits him to let the bricks stand for several hours and until they are thoroughly set. The use of a power mixer also shortens the labor and increases the daily output which Mr. Hawks believes will put the adobe brick in a class with other building materials with a commercial value.

There are many features in favor of the adobe brick if it can be put on a marketable basis. A house built of this material is considered

Colors Are On Parade At Ceremony

The colors of the local Post of the American Legion were present at the dedication of Patriotic Memorial Hall in Los Angeles last Sunday afternoon. Commander Arthur Evans, Henry Olsen, Lester K. Layton and Ted Ralsback acted as color bearers and guard. The hall was erected by Los Angeles County for the use of patriotic orders such as the Grand Army and the Legion.

The colors will again go to Los Angeles Saturday when they will appear in the massed colors section of the Shriners' parade. All who attended the Tournament of Roses parade in Pasadena will remember the beautiful and impressive sight of the legion's massed colors. There was nothing equal to it in the entire parade. It was for this reason that the Shriners requested the American Legion to repeat this feature in one of their convention parades.

FINAL CONCERT OF COMMUNITY ORGANIZATION

The final concert of the Monrovia Community orchestra will be held in the First Presbyterian church, Monrovia, tonight (Friday.) Director John R. Bayley promises a treat for all who attend as unusual effort has been put into the final appearance of the season. Mr. Bayley will be assisted by Lenore Ivey, mezzo soprano. Several Sierra Madre musicians are members of the orchestra.

Program
Overture, "Pique Dance," Franz v. Suppe.
Reve Angelique, (Kamennoi Ostrow) A. Rubenstein.
Waltz Suite, "Tales From Vienna Woods," Johann Strauss.
Aria, "Me voici dans son boudoir" from "Mignon," A. Thomas, Miss Ivey.
Spanish Dance, "Malaguena," from "Boabdil," M. Moszkowski.
Suite, "Atlantis," (the Lost Continent), V. F. Safranek.
A Group of Songs (to be announced later), Miss Ivey.
Grand Selection, "Mefistofele," A. Boito.

Church of the Ascension

(Episcopal)
Trinity Sunday, June 7.
8:00 a. m., Holy Eucharist.
9:45 a. m., Sunday School.
11 a. m., Holy Eucharist (choral) and Sermon.
7:15 p. m., Wednesday, Knights of St. Paul.
Trinity Sunday is one of the festivals of the Church year and should be observed by all communicants. The Rev. M. D. Kneeland, priest in charge, will preach at the 11 o'clock service on "The Trinity." The music for the Eucharist will be a service in A by Constance and an anthem for Trinitytide will be sung at the offertory. The public is welcome at all services of this church.

Woman's Club Notes

The last Club luncheon will be given at 12:30 next Wednesday, June 10, and will be served by the ladies of the Congregational Church Aid Society. They promise a unique Chinese menu, even to the extent of the use of chopsticks. Make reservations before Monday noon, June 8, with Mrs. H. H. Kaneen, phone Blue 47, or with Mrs. A. A. Leggett, phone Green 187.
The afternoon program will be delightfully pleasant when Miss Frona Clark with her pupil, Dorothy Williams, and Miss Grace Barnes, will entertain with music and verse.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lovell spent the week-end in Santa Monica visiting friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Hull and family spent Thursday in Los Angeles attending the Shrine meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Buckingham spent Sunday in enjoyment of a picnic in Rock Canyon.

Miss Mattie Seeley left Friday for Kingman, Ariz., to spend a two weeks vacation from her work at the Sierra Madre Savings bank.

Mrs. L. C. Tucker expects to leave in about three weeks for a three months visit in Canada, where she has a number of relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey E. Pierce of Long Beach are occupying Blue Bird cottage in Sierra Madre Canyon Park for a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Richardson of Ventura spent the week end in Sierra Madre visiting their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Ferris, 47 Bonita.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Odwarker and Mrs. Odwarker's mother, Mrs. Howard, have rented Canary cottage in Sierra Madre Canyon Park for a few weeks.

J. Draman has moved his shoe repairing shop and shoe store to the store on West Central formerly occupied by Max Silverman. Mr. Draman has increased his stock and is arranging a very attractive store in his new quarters.

MISSIONARIES GIVE TALKS AT TWO MEETINGS

The Bethany Woman's Missionary society held a most interesting meeting Tuesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Evans on Central avenue. The afternoon speaker was Mrs. Varion Atchinak of Shweifat, Mt. Lebanon, Syria.

In the evening, Mr. Ttchinak gave an illustrated lecture at the church, telling of his wonderful conversion from Bolshevism to Christianity, of his bitter persecutions by the Turks, imprisonment and sentence to death, and wonderful deliverance in answer to prayer. Mr. and Mrs. Atchinak have charge of the Bible Lands Gospel Mission at Mt. Lebanon, where homeless orphans are cared for and educated, and trained for Christian living and serving.

Jack Buchan, R. M. Finlayson and Albert Wheeling went to Azusa Monday to take the work of the Council.

G. I. Farman and J. F. Sadler went to Los Angeles Wednesday to watch the Shriners in their playful mood.

Mrs. Harry E. Long, who has been ill at her home for several weeks, due to severe burns, is able to be out again and is reported to be improving rapidly.

William Monroe has leased the Wistaria Service Station on North Baldwin avenue to Harry Middaugh, who will continue to operate a washing and greasing rack in connection with the gasoline and oil service.

The Sierra Madre school has been awarded a loving cup for winning first place in a county poster contest, according to Miss Elizabeth Steinberger, principal of the school. The cup will be presented with due ceremony on Tuesday, June 16.

The Ladies' Aid of the Congregational church will have a garden party at the home of Mrs. George Lehner, 550 West Central avenue, on Tuesday afternoon, June 9, from 2 to 5 o'clock. Mrs. Lehner's hospitality always assures a good time and all members and friends of the Aid society are cordially invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Miller and their daughter, Elsie, left Sunday for a three months' motor trip to New York City, their former home. They will visit Grand Canyon and Rocky Mountain National Park en route east, and intend to stop at Yellowstone National Park on their return trip to California.

Un-superstitious pedestrians often do this —Proving that a post can divide two people without splitting their friendship. In the same way experienced motorists have proved to their complete satisfaction that Zerolene, a western oil, will lubricate the modern automobile engine as well or a little better than any oil they can buy, although it costs less than eastern lubricants.

The anti-western oil superstition succumbs to experience

Zerolene is successfully lubricating more cars in the Pacific Coast states than any other oil made—low and high priced cars alike. The most advanced refining process is this Company's patented high-vacuum process, during the use of which Zerolene is submitted to 15 positive checks for quality. Zerolene's special filtration through 40 tons of Florida Fuller's Earth gives you an oil of absolute purity—a better oil even if it does cost less!

Less carbon—better fuel mileage

Zerolene will increase the power and gasoline mileage of your car, reduce carbon accumulation in the cylinders and lengthen the working life of the engine.

Why pay tribute to a superstition? Insist on Zerolene—ask for it by name.

A series of independent and impartial reports showing the experience of large users with Zerolene has been collected in our booklet, "Why Pay Tribute to a Superstition?" Ask any Standard Oil Company representative or Zerolene dealer for a copy.

Decker-Shaw

The marriage of Miss Marian M. Decker, daughter of the late Almarian W. and Kate M. Decker to John Newman Shaw was solemnized at high noon June 2 at the ranch home near San Fernando of the bride's stepfather, Charles Baker.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Fred Staff of Van Nuys, formerly pastor of the First Congregational Church of this city, on the lawn under the spreading boughs of a magnificent apricot tree, beautifully decorated with garlands of flowers. The bride was becomingly gowned in old rose crepe de chine and carried a beautiful bouquet of Cecil Brunner roses. After a honeymoon spent at Catalina, Mr. and Mrs. Shaw will be at home, June 22nd, to their many friends in their new home, 261 North Lima street.

Formation of Ice

The surface of a river or lake freezes into solidity, first at the top; as more water freezes it forms beneath that already frozen. Ice forms over fresh water if the temperature of the air has been for a sufficient time at or below freezing point, but freezing is only possible after the whole mass of water has been cooled down to its point of maximum density, so that the subsequent cooling of the surface can give rise to no convection currents, which would cause diffusion of heat.

ALONG LIFE'S TRAIL

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

PROTECTIVE COLORATION

I HAD never seen a walking stick before; in fact, I did not know there were such things. I had reached up into our crab-apple tree to pick off a dead twig when it came loose, as it were, and dropped into my hand, soft, squirming and alive. It frightened me at first; finally I loaded it on a chip and took it into the house to ask father about it.

He told me that the little, squirming twig was an animal that attached itself to the branch of a tree of its own color and stuck out its funny, irregular limbs like little branches. And this was all for its own personal safety, to protect it from its enemies—from the marauding birds who, searching for a morning tidbit, would have swallowed the helpless creature at a gulp, had they detected him as they darted by. He was saved from annoying attention by his shape and his color and his rigid inactivity.

As a child, walking through our unbroken pasture, I remember coming suddenly upon a prairie hen sitting upon her eggs in a nest made of dry grass. At the distance of a few feet it was almost impossible to differentiate the bird from her surroundings, so carefully had she duplicated her own coloring in gathering the dead leaves and grass to build her nest. She looked up at me unafraid, confident that she was immune from sight and annoying attention, and I respected her privacy and walked on. If her husband, with his great yellow wattles, had been sitting in her place, every boy and dog in a hundred yards would have spied him out.

We could all save ourselves a good deal of trouble and danger if we gave a little more attention to a sort of protective coloration in our social and business affairs.

Carter had been for twenty-five years in a position which brought him into contact daily with nothing but trouble. He was constantly listening to protests, hearing complaints, and being the target of scathing remarks, yet he always seemed to have a smile on his face and to be as cheerful and optimistic as if he had never listened to abuse or given ear to a tale of woe.

"How do you ever stand it all?" I once asked him. "They'd drive me crazy, or I'd kick them all out of the office, I am sure, if I had to do business with them."

"I never talk back," he replied, "and I say as little as I can get on with. I keep quiet. No one can quarrel with a man who says nothing, and by not getting angry myself I save myself from pain and regret and am protected from all sorts of attacks."

He'd evidently met the walking stick when he was young.
